• “GCI found me a new family”

I read a piece from Ekundayo Awe Please on his locker experience, and it just brought this smile on my face and made me wish I could turn back the hands of time to experience my one year at GCI like 5 times over. Much as it seemed a "nasty" experience, so is masochism to the masochist: you just can't get enough of the "pain". GCI had an excellent blend of

• “Eavesdroppers never hear good of themselves”

Our dear old Housemaster, Mr. Arodudu of blessed memory, who was also our English teacher was very fond of prowling round his domain (Grier House) after lights-out, like a sleek tiger looking for unruly students to punish.

He had carried on with this tactic for a long time, and a lot of Grier House boys had fallen into his trap on several occasions. The inevitable punishment was some strokes from the rod of Mr. Arodudu (‘Chico’). We never got to find out how he got that nickname but everyone addressed him as such - behind his back.

On this fateful night...
