

a model
in modern educational practices

GOVERNMENT COLLEGE IBADAN

Western State of Nigeria

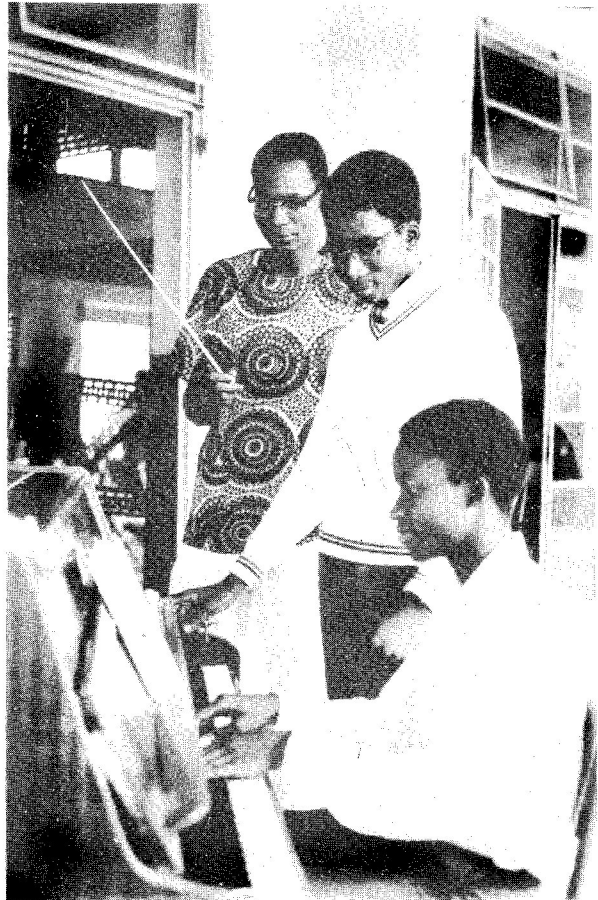

periences of fruitful labour whose fruits are not only in the material yield, or the provision of future life employment, but in the development and discipline provided for the body and mind.

THE AESTHETIC SUBJECTS

Some of the aesthetic subjects we teach are Art and Music. In these subjects we lay great emphasis on aesthetic appreciation. By no means will every child have the ability to make his own music or paint his own picture. Some will have talent as performers, and for those our facilities are offered for full development. There are only a few of these in a generation. We, however, seek to bring an appreciation of Fine arts and Music to the others who are usually the majority.

Music:

We have Music lessons for everyone from the first year and explain about Music and movement. We explain about the development of musical forms and they are exposed to various types of music-traditional, pop and classical. All sing for pleasure, and opportunities are provided for the gifted ones in Music to go as far as possible.

The musical conductor and choristers

